LXPSkills

Level 5 Certificate in Observation of Teaching and Learning (RQF)

Course guide

ofqual

TQUK

About Us

LXP Skills is a specialist training provider of education and training qualifications. We are a TQUK approved centre and offer a range of courses aimed at up-skilling those working in or looking to enter the education and skills sector.

We are a team of teachers, assessors and sector experts that care deeply about education and learning. We ensure all of our learners receive the support and guidance they need.

Contact info

LXP Skills
01253 582680
info@lxpskills.co.uk
www.lxpskills.co.uk

Level 5 Certificate in Observation of Teaching and Learning RQF

Enrolment Dates
Flexible

Level
5

Duration
Approx 3 – 6 months. Max time limit 12 months

Delivery
Online

Assessment
Portfolio, no exams

Qualification
TQUK Level 5 Certificate in Observation of Teaching and Learning

Course overview

This qualification has been developed for qualified and experienced teachers who undertake formal observations of colleagues delivering teaching or training sessions particularly those who manage a team of observers.

The qualification will develop skills and knowledge in undertaking teaching, training and learning session observations and post observation feedback processes. Individuals who already have observation experience will still benefit considerably from completion of this course and the achievement of the qualification because it provides recognition of their skills.

Eligibility

Learners must be qualified and experienced teachers. It is essential that learners have good English language skills and are expected to have good written and verbal English e.g. at or above GCSE Grade C, a good understanding of teaching and learning skills, and how learning takes place.

It is also essential that learners have a good understanding of:

- Learning activity planning
- Formative assessment
- Teaching and training delivery methods
- How learners learn
- Differentiation
- The active promotion of equality and diversity in learning contexts
- Learning session and behaviour management
- General (not vocationally specific) health and safety and hygiene issues applicable to learning situations.

The qualification is suitable for learners of 19 years of age and above.

Qualification Assessment Activities

The qualification is assessed through the completion of written assignments and undertaking three separate lesson observations on colleagues you work with. You will also be required to write an Observation Report for each observation you undertake and take part in a standardisation or moderation meeting with colleagues, in relation to your observations.

Qualification Requirements

You must be able to conduct three observations on three different colleagues during your time on the qualification. The observations each must last for one hour and you must complete an Observation Report for each observation.

Key details

- Fully remote course delivered via distance learning.
- You will complete assignments through our Virtual Learner Environment (VLE).
- Personal tutor for the duration of the course.
- OFQUAL regulated under the awarding body TQUK.
- Guided learning hours 60
- Total qualification time 200 hours.

Units covered

Unit	Learning outcome	Guided learning hours and credit value
Observation of Teaching and Learning	The learner will understand the purposes and possible impacts of a range of observation types. Know how to prepare for, conduct observations and feedback in an ethical manner. Be able to make, standardise and moderate judgements. Be able to report on observed sessions in a format appropriate to context and situation.	GLH 60 Credit Value 20

Course payment

- Pay in full or over 12 months
- No extra or hidden fees.
- The balance needs to be cleared before receiving your certificate

Enrolling and next steps:

Step one:
You will need to purchase the course and you can either pay in full or instalments

Step two:
Your personal tutor will be in touch via email to introduce themselves and get you registered.

Step three:
You will work through your assignments online which will be marked by your tutor with feedback provided. There are no exams.

Step four:
Once you have completed all the units you will be awarded your certificate.